

DELHI FOUNDATION OF DEAF WOMEN

ANNUAL Report

2016-17

FROM THE DESK OF PRESIDENT

We at Delhi Foundation of Deaf Women aims to participate in development of the deaf community at various levels: economic, cultural and social, with the intent of contributing to develop stronger and more resilient local communities.

It strives to providing best possible solutions for sustainable development of deaf in a society through skill development and self employment. Community development seeks to empower individuals and groups of people by providing them with the skills they need to effect change in their own communities.

This encompasses several aspects such as skill development, education, legal advice services, matrimonial service to name a few.

These women are also encouraged and trained to take up simple income generation activities such as making handicrafts, tailoring, beautician, book binding etc which earns them some pocket money but more importantly, a life of dignity.

Other than this the center also provided computer and english language training.

I am sure that the Centre would continue to serve the deaf from the marginalized sections of society. In conclusion, I thank the officers and staff of DFDW for yet another year of selfless work.

Most sincere thanks are due to the legions of our donors, both individuals and corporate CHALLENGES AHEAD.....

I am pleased to present the annual report of Delhi Foundation of Deaf Women for the year ending 31st March 2017. This is a landmark year for DFDW as it was the silver jubilee of our most awaited program 'THE PRANAY MILAN SAMMELAN- Matrimonial service for Deaf'.

As we move ahead we are cognizant of challenges ahead of us. Our programmatic focus now included broad based advocacy interventions in rights, social protection of deaf women and against domestic violence.

Our ongoing vocational training program is being re-oriented as SKILL DEVELOPMENT FOR DEAF program with the aim of providing valuable skill training to deaf, especially deaf women.

Other than this the regular projects got some sponsors and fund raising was done through sale of products and during Diwali exhibitions. All my colleague worked very hard for this.

I on behalf of my colleagues would like to acknowledge the support of all our donors, sponsors for their trust and generosity.

Snigdha Sharma

Chief Executive

From the Desk of our Vice President....

Hello everyone and my dear young friends It is indeed an honour to be a part of Delhi Foundation of Deaf Women and All India Foundation of Deaf Women. It is indeed a privilege to be part of this institution as I have been a part of this organization since last 3 years.

'Great Mahatma Gandhi once said that live as you were to die tomorrow and learn as if you were to live forever. Think about that. And that's what it is all about today. Educating is the most important thing we do as parents. Educating our children to prepare them for the future, prepare them to challenge and help them improve our society. Children who are hearing impaired or having any disability can overcome their inabilities through education. They get the confidence to look beyond the given situation.

Also if a person has good skills/ talent he can also live a life of self respect by becoming self reliant. Delhi Foundation of Deaf Women aims to Skill Develop the deaf women who are not well educated so that they can become self- dependent and can earn their living through self employment.

The course provided at DFDW are very useful like: Computers, Tailoring, Beautician, Handicraft making etc. I would request all parents of def children to give importance to their deaf child's Education and Skill Development. Then only she/ he can live a life full of dignity.

Life is about constant improvement. I am proud to see these young women entering a great new life. I wish them all the best and also congratulate DFDW on completing its 44 years.

Minu Singh
Vice- President

Our Success and Moving Ahead....

44 years of rehabilitating thousands of deaf women/ deaf girls I still feel very little has been done. Its pleasure announcing our new project 'SAHARA'- the counseling service for destitute deaf. Since last many years we have been visited by many deaf men/ women/young children regarding their problems related to their families, school, marriage etc.

This year we started helping and supporting the needed deaf coming to us. Most of the time the problems are due to lack of understanding / communication among families etc. we become the mediator and help them to understand the situation better which in turn solves the issues. In last years we were able to help 8 deaf families. Our legal experts helps in solving and guiding the cases where the legal guidance is required.

Other than this skill development courses are helping deaf women to self employ themselves and earn from home. What keeps me here year after year, is very simply the deaf women, their dreams, their drive to excel, and how hard they work to transform their lives, take care of their families, and often also create a change in their communities.

Over so many years, I have met so many deaf, and seen so many alumni make a success of their lives, however large or small that success may be. It is these bright eyes that keep me here, and keep me convinced of t

We have come a long way but still a long way to go.

24th September:- INTERNATIONAL DEAF WEEK

To commemorate International Week of the Deaf, the Delhi Foundation of Deaf Women organized one day seminar on "Swayam Shakti".

The topic of discussion were "Child Abuse and Sexual Harassment" and Legal Rights (Domestic violence) on 24th September 2016 at the National Bal Bhavan, Kotla , New Delhi .

The condition of women in India has always been a matter of grave concern. Since the past several centuries, the women of India were never given equal status and opportunities as compared to that of their male counterparts. The patriarchal nature of Indian society, which even though gives respect to women as they are our mothers and sisters, has greatly hampered both the independence as well as the safety of women.

Women in India-a better half of Indian society, today, are becoming the most vulnerable section as far as their safety and security is concerned.

When we turn the pages of a newspaper, we come across many headlines reporting cases of sexual assault, molestation, sexual harassment, rapes, trafficking, ill treatment of women in houses, violence against women in remote areas etc.

Our supreme law of land i.e. our Indian Constitution has envisaged a dream of true social, economic and political democracy which guarantees the rich and moral principles of equality for our citizens but this has not yet been fully realized.

Still our better halves are unsafe and unsecured towards the realization of freedom and liberty. It's unbearable to imagine the plight of women who are sufferers of such crimes. It's a jolt on the confidence of the women, of society and on our judicial system. Besides it has much of cascading effects which affects her life.

Women have been advancing, progressing and have proved that they can beat men in any sector they are in. No matter what, the old thoughts and upbringing culture still lay cluttered in the minds of men that women should not be above men, but below them.

Some of the most common crimes against women are rape, dowry deaths, sexual harassment at home or work place, kidnapping and abduction, cruelty by husband, relatives, assault on a woman, and sex trafficking.

This Seminar was an effort towards creating awareness among the disabled community about their safety. All the best for conducting such a thoughtful event. I wish we are able to reach maximum deaf women and educate them about their rights.
